Join Us In Moscow in the Fall

The major software showcase for the Soviet Union — SofTool USSR — will take place September 24-28, 1990, in Central Moscow.

Sponsored by the USSR State Committee for Computer Systems and Informatics (GKVTI), the show will debut this fall in Moscow with the major U.S. computer companies in attendance along with a significant technical program.

The organizers have chosen CASExpo-Spring '90 to announce the availability of limited exhibition space in this combined Soviet/American event.

While only 1,500 square meters of exhibition space remain, the luncheon will afford all invitees an opportunity to reserve space still available.

If you are interested in penetrating the huge, rapidly developing Soviet computer marketplace, you should not miss SofTool USSR. Both Mr. Bukreev and Mr. Vasenkov will answer questions pertaining to future computerization of the Soviet Union.
